Talent Coming to Ellicott City. A concert will be given at Assembly Hall on Friday evening, August 4th, by the Misses Kleckhoefer. These three young ladies received their musical education at Leipsic, where they studied for four years in the Royal Conservatory. They were introduced to the musical world of New York by Emil Paur, Brahms, and other eminent musicians, and during the past season they were quite "the thing" in Newport, reckoning among their patronesses such names as Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger, and other leading hostesses, in whose drawing rooms they entertained most distinguished audiences. Too much cannot be said in praise of their work, for they are artists and their mastery of the piano, violin, and violincello is most unusual. Miss Marie Kieckhoefer, the 'cellist, plays in a manner equalled by few men, and certainly by no woman in America, while their ensemble playing is remarkable, combining, as it does, excellence in technique and intelligent conception of the productions of the greatest composers.

The Misses Kieckhoefer come from a and are high bred, charming young ladies, without any musical mannerisms and could fail to be delighted with this con-Tickets for sale at Wallenhorst's-50

Orphans' Court.

The will of the late Artemns Donelson, of the Sixth district of Howard county, was admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court here Tuesday, and letters were granted on the estate to Amelia Donelson and Emory V. Donelson, widow and son of the deceased, who were named as one-half interest in two farms in How-370 and 240 acres, to his widow for life, provided she remains unmarried. Also and a meeting for the young people at one-half interest in a house and lot on Dover street, Baltimore, and a house and lot near Laurel, Howard county, under similar provisions. He leaves also to the widow all the household effects, and to his son the library and business books. To his sister, Mrs. Mary J. Bennett, widow of William P. Bennett, is given $60 annually, to be paid in quarterly instalments. To the old family servant, Henrietta Gaither, he leaves $15 per annum. All the residue of the estate is left to his son, Emory V. Donelson. The will is dated May 5, 1897. Causes of Complaint.

Superintendent Allen Dorsey, of the Frederick Turnpike Company, has entered formal protest against the use of the express car of the United Railways, between Baltimore and Ellicott City. Mr. Dorsey contends that his contract with the railway company for the trolley road specifically stipulates that the cars shall carry nothing but light packages, such as market baskets, hand satchels, etc., in the hands of passengers. It is stated that has been a subscriber to The Times from Mr. John L. Findlay, representing the turnpike company, has been directed to faith in the Democratic party as the parproceed by way of injunction to restrain the United Railways from operating the express business.

Another cause of complaint, Mr. Dorsey stated when in Ellicott City on Tuesday last, was the stopping of cars for passengers in a narrow place in Main street, making of it a station. He said the contract contemplated stations off the street on adjoining private property to be acquired for that purpose.

Pump House Burned.

On Sunday the efficiency of the water supply system at Catonsville was considerably impaired by the burning of one of the pump houses. There are three, the one burned is at the mouth of a branch at the dam of the Oella Cotton Mills, three and one-half miles from Catonsville. The fire was discovered about 9.30 in the morning in the sheathing of the roof, by the men in charge of the station. The men were powerless to extinguish the flames and the roof which was iron, soon crushed in upon the valuable pumping machinery, engines and boilers. The building is stone and was supposed to be fire proof. The damage to the building is about $1,000, fully insured. The building will be at once.

Stolen Goods Recovered

A Cumberland dispatch of the 21st inst. says that Justice Morris had recovered a gold watch, two revolvers and a pearl-handled knife, part of the articles taken from the residence of Mr. Edward E. Burgess, near Ellicott City, on by Irving R. Day and William Mann, aged respectively, 14 and 17 years, who are now in the Howard county jail await ing trial. At the hearing the boys stated that they had thrown a part of the plunder into the Chesapeake and Ohio canal at Cumberland. Donning a bathing suit the justice plunged into the canal at the point where the boys had thrown the mentioned.

For and Against a Road.

The room of the Howard County Commissioners was the scene Tuesday of a very animated discussion over a petition by a number of taxpayers of the Fourth district for the opening of a new public road from the Old Frederick road to the Frederick turnpike, near Poplar Springs. The petition was favored by Beal A Warfield, Lee Bowman, M. T. Warfield and others, and the opposition included John S. Tracey and J. N. Warfield. While the former contended that the new road would inure to the public good, it was contended by the opposite side that it could in no way be an advantage to the traveling public. The Commissioners promised to investigate the matter and report their decision at a future meeting.

the evening a quarrel arose between Richard Bruce and Lewis. Later on Lewis learned that Anderson had supplied Bruce with a razor with which to defend himself against Lewis. When accosted and asked by Lewis if the report was true Anderson replied in the affirmative. Lewis then invited him out to fight. He came and was closely followed by Bruce. Lewisstruck him a severe blow with his fist, which staggered Anderson. Lewis then slashed him desperately in the face with a razor and Anderson fired. Being severely hurt, Lewis beat a retreat and was hotly purcaught him in the bushes and more fighting was done. Escaping from his antagonists. Interesting Civil Suit. An interesting civil suit was tried before Justice J. F. Melvin here. It was for the purpose of determining the ownership of certain personal property claimed after being taken in execution. On the petition of Bertha Preihe, the claimant, a summons had been issued for Thomas J. Hood and his son, Thomas J. Hood, Jr., who, in the execution of a judgment of theirs against Herman reihe, her husband, had caused the levy o be made. A bill of sale was produced to show the wife's title, but this was attacked. In her own behalf Mrs. Preihe testified that she had carried on the business of farming for three or four years, she herself doing the heavy work of man in the fields, such as plowing and planting and sowing and reaping, and that her husband was generally away from the place trading horses. Herman Preihe, the husband, in his testimony ankly admitted that he had been as utter failure as a farmer and had long since given the entire farm management over to his better half. In awarding the property taken in execution to the petitioner, Mrs. Preihe, the justice said she had fairly and fully earned it, and the mere presumption of fraud, without proof offered to support it in any particular, would not be sufficient to disprove her claim. John Malcolm Dorsey appeared as counsel for Mrs. Preihe and John G. Rogers for Hood and son.

SUN-DOWN

Written for THE TIMES. Far in the west the sun sinks down,
With an othereal glow,
And with half-sad and wistful eyes, Day breathesa farewell low

O'er yon horizon's tender blue, A bright host in her train, The Moon, fair Queen of Night, appears, To deck and light the main. List, list the slumbrous sound that rings, Borne from the woodland way, As birds give voice in sweet accord. Unto their evening lay.

Then, falling in a minor key, Glad notes resound, until The echoes die, now one by one, And meadow-lands grow still. HORTENSE CASTLEMAN. Baltimore, Md.

WEST FRIENDSHIP. WEST FRIENDSHIP, July 26.—The contest at he Democratic primary in our district next Saturday does not promise to be as spirited as ndications some weeks back presaged. Mr. Asbury P. Hobbs is out of the race for the treasurership against Mr. Frank Parlett and that leaves the delegation from the Third practically undisputed.

The only other aspirant is our young and eloquent Mr. Thomas Wheeler. The pressure of friends may induce him to become a candidate for the State Legislature, Rev. W. W. Costin, of the St, Mary's Circuit, was a welcome visitor here last week. He exchanged pulpits with Rev. R. N. Smith, of the Patapsco Circuit, M. E. Church. The credulity of city folk is proverbial. A certain Baltimore guest in the neighborhood was recently convinced that there is such a thing as "saw-dust seed." This almost eclipses the statement of a young lady upon seeing honey on her country uncle's table, "Oh, uncle," said she, "do you keep a bee?" Mr. Samuel Saumenig announces that he has 150 lbs. of honey for sale. Surely his BEE lives on the fat of the land.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

TRAVELERS' YARNS AND THINGS WITH WHEELS TO THEM, BY TIM TRICKETT.

It must be evident to the dullest person that the politicians of Maryland, including the Sun, their boss this time, are in the sorest straits to nominate their man Smith, the one who is now State Senator, congressman-elect, Governorship hunter, and busily engaged in fixing his fences for U.S. Senator in place of Wellington. Mr. Smith seems to desire to get up a corner in offices in Maryland. The plotters concocted a ticket bound to win they thought, and to make certain of victory included on it the name of the Hon. W. Pinkney Whyte as Attorney-General. but the grand old ex-Governor kicked their fat into the fire when he refused to be the only vote-getter on it. He wants to be a private citizen only, this time, and in the best of health and spirits to welcome Edwin Warfield into the State

The Baltimore Sun can now really brag of its increased circulation, for a lady coming to Howard for a short visit has ordered a copy of it sent to her for two weeks that she may see its lists of married and dead people. A gentleman that cannot lie tells me that he saw in the city of Seven Sleepers (Lisbon) a horseless vehicle, the advance guard perhaps of automobiles, pulled by a man and pushed by a boy. I asked if its tires were pneumatic but was told that likely they were only rheumatic if one judged by the creaking and groanings heard. Thus we see that sleepy town is alive to progress. A friend of mine that has a waist of, say eighteen inches in diameter, asked a little child to sit in his lap. 1 will, she said, if you will pull your lap out. People are wondering why if they send all buckwheat to some mills at least one quarter of the flour returned is wheat "seconds." The Baltimore Sun sent a correspondent to England to look about him and describe what he saw. In this orginal "No way he tells his wonderful story: prettier country exists in the world than this (England). The farmlands are in the highest state of development." One can easily imagine that the correspondent, fearing sea sickness, didn't go to England but came to Howard and then lazily told what he saw there; scenes familiar to us all, dating his letter howhungry. At 9 the rain sent them home Rover, Lisbon, Florence, Glenwood, Hell Town and Black Ankle are wonderful places. "Are there any places like them?"

He says Londoners do not drink water not use water for any purpose whatever and no correspondent writes about it What fearful rot "Metropolitan journals" do indulge in. There is not a county paper that would print such stuff. county I heard some delicious scandal, lots of it, that I'd give a dime to tell about but am afraid to do so. Oh! what a rumpus would be kicked up. Still it seems hard to keep such choice morsels away from the people. I'll see if I cannot file off the rough edges and corners, anoint them with some fragrant mollifier, and give the stories on perfumed pink paper to the readers of THE TIMES SO soon as I tell all about the "Shattered Idols" now in preparation. TIM TRICKETT.

A WORD ON THE SCHOOL QUESTION. EDITOR TIMES: Sir:—Being satisfied that the less know about public schools, the better l am fitted to argue for or against them, I claim attention and space from THE Times to air my utter ignorance of the whole question. Three prominent opponents of the system were mentioned in THE TIMES during a recent discussion that left things more muddled than when the feast of reason and flow of gas began. Two are multi-millionaires, men, and the other a woman, a German, I believe. One of the rich men lived for years with a woman not his wife and bought for his "adopted" daughter a titled husband. The other rich man held up an innocent and poor chap, a clerk, between himself and a bomb-thrower. The human shield received severe injuries, the rich man not even a scratch, and he has since sternly refused to compensate the wounded toiler even in one little dollar. The woman believes in free love and successfully prac tices it. So far as these incidents go they seem to show either that the noted three are shining examples of public school haters, or might have been better citizens had they attended the despised seats of learning. My prejudices are in favor o public schools to a limited extent.

IS IT RIGHT Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines? From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Dr. I. J. Martin's Sons.

PURLICATIONS. LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE FOR AUGUST. -"Fortune's Vassals," by Sarah Barnwell Elliott, the complete novel in Lippincott's New Magazine for August, is undoubtedly the strongest novel to date from a pen which has already produced "The Durket Sperrit" and "An Incident and Other Happenings." In conception it is original, and in execution it is romantic and realistic. The life is that of to-day in a small American town anywhere you please. The controlling motives are the old-yet ever new-ones of our common nature. The fiction of the month, in all respects striking, is rendered unique by the addition of "Noah's Ark," in which . Zangwill, in his masterly way, takes is reader from the Ghetto of Frankfort, Germany, to distant Niagara Falls. This one of the few tales by its author which will appeal in a peculiar manner o Americans.

Dr. C. W. Doyle, author of "The Taming of the Jungle," contributes a picturesque story in a field all his own, namely that of the Chinese quarter of San Francisco. A mother's tragic attempts to bring sunlight into the darkness of her 'Bibi's" eyes make a lasting impression on the reader.

A NEW AMERICAN NOVELIST. - A new figure in American Literature is Cyrus Townsend Brandy. He was born in Allegheny City, Pennsylvania, in 1861. His ancestors fought in the army and the navy during the Revolution and the succeeding wars. two of them being officers of the Continental line. One commanded a regiment under General Scott in the War of 1812, and died a Major-General, One was killed at Antietam. Young Brady thus inherited from his Scotch-Irish stock the sturdlest courage and patriotism. At seventeen he entered the United States Naval Academy and graduated in the class of 1883. Ten years ago he entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. For three and one-half years he was Archdeacon of Kansas, and for four years he has been Archdeacon of Pennsylvania. In the recent war he went to the front as Chaplain of the First Pennsylvania Regiment. Doctor Brady has written a new romance of the War of 1812, following the fortunes of "Old Ironsides." and in it his brilliant genius has produced the most thrilling novel of sea life in American literature. It is called For the Freedom of the Sea, and its serial publication will begin in The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, in September.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE FOR AUGUST. The Fiction Number of Scribner's Magaine has come to be an annual event of mportance to writers and readers of short stories. In it, during the past ten years, have appeared the most notable short stories of writers established in reputation, and writers whose reputations began with their appearance in this issue. Richard Harding Davis tells in of a young American playwright in London. The heroine is an American girl and her rival is a charming English actress. The illustrations are by Howard Chandler Christy, who made his reputation by his pastel posters for Scribner's. Thomas Nelson Page contributes the tale of a negro lynching in the South, entitled "The Spectre in the Cart." The full-page illustration is by F. C. Yohn. Albert White Vorse tells a story of Little Italy, the action of which takes place in an East Side theatre, with illustrations in color by W. Glackens.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL FOR AUGUST. -Hamlin Garland, Anthony Hope, John Kendrick Bangs, Harold Richard Vynne, Anna Robeson Brown, "Josiah Allen's Wife," Clara Morris, Kate Whiting Patch and Anna Farquhar are among the halfscore of writers of fiction who contribute stories to the August Ladies' Home Journal. The Midsummer Fiction Number of the Journal is in many respects a notable magazine. It has brought together in a single issue some of the most popular story-writers, and the most capable black-and-white artists to illustrate their work. Fiction, of course, predominates, but there is an abundance of timey, practical articles especially appealing o home and family interests and tending to lighten and brighten women's work.
